Red Cross Fund Drive Amasses Total of $17,539

A grand total of $12,399.48 was collected from Fort Benning military and civilian personnel for the 19th annual Red Cross drive, Lt. Col. William C. Goodrum, chairman of the drive announced. Also revealed at this time were reports from all post branches.

The Infantry School personnel headed the list of units with $1,944.59. Army Service Forces civilians contributed $1,349.43, Army Service Forces employees, $1,344, and the post for $1,758.99.

A grand total of $12,399.48 was collected from all units, including the Army Service Forces civilians and employees.

All of the other major commands included $792.41 from the Army Services Forces civilians, $656.35 from the Army Service Forces employees, $556.35 from the Infantry School, and $445.80 from the Armored Forces. The Infantry School Auxiliary raised a total of $1,144.41.

Capt. John, in charge of the parade, said that the total for exceeding our expectation is the result of the military and civilian population of the post.

All of the $17,539.48 has been forwarded to the Red Cross. The drive chairman, Mrs. L.D. Goodrum, said that the Red Cross and the treasurer of the post drive, reported.

School Troops Lead TIS

Colonial Chapel, the American Red Cross, and the post chaplain, were also present. More than $1,001.00 in a week for the Red Cross drive, said the post chaplain, is expected to be more than $4,000.00, but the post chaplain, reported.

With School Troops heading the parade, the post chaplain, said that the total collection will be in the order of $4,000.00.

Headquarters of the American Red Cross were present, as well as the post chaplain, and the Red Cross chairman.

The third day of the Army Week was continued in an extended manner. The Army Week parade was held on Saturday afternoon, and the parade continued into the night.

Catholic Chapels Announce Plans

Holy Week services for Catholic military and civilian personnel will be held this week. The Benjamin Chapel will be open for prayer from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. until Easter Sunday.

The Palm Sunday services will include the traditional Palm Sunday procession, which will be witnessed by many Catholic personnel. The procession will be led by the post chaplain, and will include a military guard and the post band. The service will begin at 3 p.m. on Easter Sunday.

The Holy Week services will be continued by the post chaplain, and will include Mass on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and a morning Mass at 9:30 on Thursday.

The post chaplain, has announced that the Holy Week services will be concluded by a service of the Holy Cross on Easter Sunday.

2 Auto Officers Leave

Announcement has been made by Capt. John C. Goodrum, regarding the departure of two members of the police force. The detectives were Capt. John C. Goodrum and Capt. John C. Goodrum. The detectives were members of the Executive Committee and Lt. Victor Slow Jr. of the Quality Committee.

Hess Does Goosestep in Prison

Ex-Enurburg Guard Recalls

Col.-Gen. Gustav Jull is a physical conditioning enthusiast, according to Maj. Joseph J. Bacht, who guarded the ex-Nazi in the Enurburg Prison. Hess does standing exercises every morning and is particularly fond of lifting weights on the chaise lounge in his cell.

Mr. Bacht was a cell guard at the infamous Palace of Justice while a member of the 16th Infantry, 4th Division. He was one of a group of American soldiers who were responsible for the arrest of the individual cells of the defendant who are being tried and the heads of the Nazi who are being held for questioning. Every 15 seconds he was required to look into the cells at the hour of the meeting at different times: 11:55 a.m.; 2:55 p.m.; 7:55 p.m.; 12:55 a.m.

Colonel Jull, who is General Staff of the German High Command, used to be a telegrapher at the time of his arrest, and is a former member of the Hitler Youth movement. He was assigned to the Enurburg Guard on orders from the High Command, and is currently serving as a high-ranking German officer in the Enurburg Prison.

Hess still has stars on his uniform, and is free for twenty-four hours, but will be required to report to the office when he is not on duty. Mr. Bacht was in Enurburg with his wife from Czechoslovakia, where they were married and at the end of the war. He is a native of Austria.

Can't Have Euphemism

Most of the prisoners are clothed in pastel-colored, thin, cotton-like uniforms, but Hess still wears his own uniform, which he has kept in good condition. After his capture, he was stripped of all his belongings and taken to the Enurburg Prison, where he was placed in a cell with only a pile of straw for a bed. When Hess was taken from the prison, the guards must check to see that the soldiers still have their heads under their bodies when they are not apparent in the courtroom, he is most in writing

Hess and Jull are both of the Enurburg Guard, and the latter is a member of the Enurburg High Command. The Enurburg Guard is responsible for the security of the prison, and is composed of a group of American soldiers who were responsible for the arrest and trial of Hess.

In the court, Hess and Jull are seated at the first aid in front of the court. Hess is wearing a white uniform, while Jull is dressed in a black uniform. The guards stand at attention in front of the court, and the judge is seated at the rear of the court. Hess and Jull are seated at the first aid in front of the court. Lawson Field Base Unit Renamed 319th AAFBU

The 818th Army Forces Base Unit, stationed at Lawson Field, has been named the 319th Army Air Forces Base Unit. The change was announced by General Carl A. Spaatz, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, at a news conference here March 22. At the news conference, General Spaatz informed the press that the 319th AAFBU was being named in honor of the 319th Infantry Regimen, which was stationed at Lawson Field during World War II.

PROMINENT CITIZENS UP IN AIR OVER PARATROOPERS' TRAINING

M. M. Atkinson, Columbus publisher and W. P. Patten, Columbus bank president, elected themselves to the board of directors of the 319th AAFBU by special election conducted by airmen at Lawson Field.

"We quickly jumped at the chance to be a part of this training program," Mr. Atkinson said. "Mr. Patten and I have a feeling that it is an honor to be elected to the board of directors of the 319th AAFBU," Mr. Patten added.

Maj. Gen. Paul L. Williams, who has been in charge of the training program, has been considered to be the man responsible for the Allied training of the airmen.

The training program is aimed at training two thousand airmen at Lawson Field in a year.

The airmen will be trained in a variety of skills, including navigation, bomb aiming, and gunnery.

The training program is designed to prepare the airmen for service in the armed forces of the United States.

In addition to the training program, the 319th AAFBU also conducts public relations and community service activities.

* At the risk of being accused "stinking" by my fellow enlisted men, I am going to put on paper a few things that I believe to be a part of the Army. As an American institution, a constitutionally-created agency of the government, isn't it true that civilization is in the making and those of us who stand to guard it are helping it to go forward? It is only right that we take a moment to consider the fact that we have been called "squeaky wheels," and that those who have been accused of doing nothing are doing the work of the country. It is only right that we should consider the fact that we have been called "squeaky wheels," and that those who have been accused of doing nothing are doing the work of the country.

 A TRICK BACK THROUGH TIME

Ever been to New Orleans? It's a real experience and walking through the streets of the old French Quarter is something you'll never forget. The buildings are old, the streets are narrow, the people are friendly, and the architecture is beautiful. New Orleans has a rich history and is known for its music, food, and culture.

Even the blues have roots in New Orleans, where many of the early blues musicians learned their craft. The city is also home to some of the most famous jazz musicians in the world, such as Louis Armstrong and Ella Fitzgerald. And don't forget to try the famous beignets and coffee at Cafe du Monde!

TABS Demonstrates Jump Training

Guests Learn How a GI Is Made Airborne

The crowd drove to the C Stage Area of the Airborne School, where they parked their automobiles and began their tour of Fort Benning demonstrations. Maj. Gen. Carey, a major in the 8th army, led the group to the air-tight portion of 8th Airborne School. In his speech, Gen. Carey remarked, "During the war, the training here at the Airborne School was kept from the whole world because of the strategic importance of the school. But today, we are at last able to show you how your money is being spent here. You fellows will be fighting proud of the parachute troopers, developed and trained as they were, who fought at your back. The next time you talk about the parachute troopers, you can tell them how they were trained at this school, and the welcome news you just heard is all for yourselves just how a mile to make airborne.

Upon the conclusion of Gen. Carey's welcoming speech, Lt. Col. Eilenschlmn left the microphone and stood in front of the air-tight portion of the Airborne School. The troopers were then given a demonstration in this phase of the school, and they were shown the use of the static line drop tower, which dominates the skyline at Fort Benning. The troopers have four cars, each car with a parachute tower of three cars. They were put in the harnass of parachute gear on top of the cars and hauled to the top of the tower by an electrically operated winch. Upon releasing the winch, they floated to the top of the tower, where the troopers were equipped with parachute harness and dropped on another drop tower.

General Chapman Awarded Distinguished Service Medal

For directing "the Airborne program during the period in which it was expanded to its present dimensions" and preparing "several divisions for the important part they played in achieving victory," Maj. Gen. Harry Chapman, Commander of the Airborne School at Fort Benning, was presented with the Distinguished Service Medal by Maj. Gen. Harry Hadley at a surprise luncheon of the full U.S. Airborne Officer staff Thursday morning in the officers' mess TABS.

Gen. Hadley flew to Fort Benning from Fort Bragg where he is the commanding general of the school command and school command. During the afternoon, Gen. Hadley presented an Airborne demonstration as a part of the celebration.

In the period specified in Gen. Chapman's citation, he was the commanding officer of the Airborne Command at both Fort Benning and Camp Marshall, N.C. He also directed the training of all Airborne troops in the United States and in coordination with his efforts with those of the Army Air Forces. By enlisting in the 13th Airborne Division in November, 1945, he overcame at its commanding general and assumed the responsibility for the organization of the United States, Gen. Chapman was designated as commandant of the Airborne School in January of this year.

Gen. Chapman, who has been in active duty for over 30 years, was appointed to the Airborne Command at Fort Benning and is now in charge of all Airborne operations in the United States.

Women Dubs, Experts Urged To Enter Golf Tournaments

There's nothing like the clean smell of a club house or the sound of swinging golf clubs to bring back memories of golfing days. It’s for the same reason that the Fort Benning Golf Course is being advertised in newspapers and radio stations in the Fort Benning area.

There's also nothing like a flowered shot, or even one completely off the fairway, that can make a pleasant company and surrounding the hole more attractive. Which brings up the point that when you hit a poor shot, you have to accept responsibility for it.

So for two Blind Hogan tournaments have been held, the second one a "Poker Hand" in which the car which has come on with the highest numbered hand was given a new car.

Although many players of the club have shown interest in the tournament, it has not been possible yet for many more and all are urged to join in the fun.

So dust off your clubs, or borrow a set if you are a non-club member, bring your best shot into the golfing swing. You'll never regret it.

41 TABS Men Enjoy Tour Of Warm Springs

Forty-one men from TABS and 15 delegates from the World's Fair were conducted on a tour of Warm Springs, Georgia, Sunday, March 31, by Mr. Colman of the Warm Springs Foundation. The tour included a private lunch on the Foundation's tennis courts, as arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Scott, directors of the camp.

Leaving Fort Benning at one-thirty in the afternoon, the group arrived in Columbus by the train around two o'clock. At 2:15 for Warm Springs, the group was welcomed by Mr. Colman personally at his private residence in the famous spa, giving the party a unique view of the history and function of the health-giving springs.

The party spent the day at the Springs spa, enjoying on its various health activities, and then returned to Columbus by train around five o'clock.

At the close of the day, a total of 250 persons had enjoyed the day at the Springs. Among the many interesting residents, those included the famous spa, giving the party a unique view of the history and function of the health-giving springs.

Woman’s Club Fashion Show Plays to “SRO” Audience

Paying Monday night to a standing-room-only crowd of well-dressed society members, the annual Fashion Show sponsored by the Fort Benning Women’s Club proved to be a resounding success.

Eleven beautifully dressed, models were on hand, presenting the latest and most chic fashions, all fittingly timed to correspond with the fashionable evening of the Annual Slage Set.

The theme of the show was the “Cocktail Hour” in an unusual manner, as well as a reminder of the high photograph of evening wear, with each model wearing a 10-foot high dress black with a black dress being worn by a model.

The models descended the curving staircase at one end of the room, then turned and headed to the other side of the room. Each model was dressed in a different costume from a variety of the latest Evening gowns, from cocktail dresses, to full-length gowns, to evening coats.

Duties on the hour were

- Mrs. Frank Jones as hostess
- Miss Barbara Overfelt as assistant hostess
- Mrs. Allen Head as assistant hostess
- Mrs. Jeannette Miller as assistant hostess
- Mrs. Elizabeth Moore as assistant hostess
- Mrs. Alice Head as assistant hostess

Big Question at Library: Ya Got Forever Amber?

“Do you have a copy of Forever Amber?”

This, according to Miss Frances Denyer, Port Librarian, is the question most frequently asked of her and her four assistants by GI readers—a request which has necessitated the purchase of over 200 copies of that best seller since it was first distributed. Miss Denyer, in fact, says that heaviest example of the American and Chinese armies.

THE BLACK BIRD” and “Brother’s, a Bouquet, corsage or plant of beautiful flowers. The library is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day with branches from 9:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. The library problems have been received by the library staff, cataloged, labeled, and taken out for circulation, which takes about thirty minutes per book. Soldiers are attracted to the library, not only by the variety of books selected, but by the comfort of the library, which is cozy and quiet, with the right atmosphere for reading.

Miss Dozier, in charge of the library, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has been a librarian for over ten years.

This increase is due to the closing of various branch libraries, which are now open at this time and to the increased hiring of military personnel. Miss Denyer says that the Library Board, Miss Carman, Miss Pen, Miss Dozen, Miss Farming, and Miss Lona, have all been successful in the library’s present efforts. TIS Defeats Atlanta Twice

Wilkins Scatters Eleven Hits In Second Victory

By SGT. CHUCK LEWIS

The Infantry School baseball team made it two in a row over the Atlanta Crackers Tuesday night at the Cowhey field by virtue of a 7-5 victory.

Dewey Wilkins, pitching for TIS, gave up 11 hits but kept them scattered so that they didn't cause him trouble. He held the Crackers scoreless for five innings.

Two errors by the Crackers team allowed the first TIS run in the second inning. Dill Johnson got a base hit to second where Rightfielder Ellis booted the ball. It rolled to the outfield and another error let Johnson score.

Atlanta's starting pitcher, Earl Mcdevon, had trouble in the third inning and hit a two out error and a wild pitch, with Ellis getting in on the play. Johnson scored another run for TIS, taking the lead, 2-0.

In the top of the fourth inning, TIS sent three runners to the plate with one out, but the Crackers pitcher retired the final two hitters to keep the score at 2-0.

The Crackers first run came in the第五inning when a ground ball to second base by Ellis was booted by Johnson, who then covered second base with a throw to Ellis. Ellis then threw to first base where the ball was hit back to him. Ellis again threw to first base where another ball was hit back to him, with Ellis in time to get the out on the batter. Ellis then threw to second, where the ball was bopped into the air, allowing the TIS runner to score. At this point the Crackers had only one baserunner on base. The score was 2-1.

The Crackers only run came in the fifth inning when they scored two runs on two hits. Ellis hit a double to lead off the inning, and was driven home on a triple by Theoharis. In the next at-bat, Theoharis scored on a sacrifice fly to deep left by Ellis.

In the sixth inning, TIS loaded the bases with one out, but the Crackers pitcher retired the next two batters to keep the score at 3-1. Theoharis pitched a scoreless sixth inning and later in the game pitched a scoreless seventh.

The seventh inning was an exciting one, with both teams scoring two runs each. TIS scored on a triple by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis. The Crackers scored two runs on a double by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis.

The eighth inning saw TIS score one run on a single by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis. The Crackers scored one run on a double by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis.

In the ninth inning, TIS scored one run on a single by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis. The Crackers scored two runs on a double by Ellis and a sacrifice fly by Theoharis.

The final score was 11-5 in favor of TIS. Theoharis got the win and Ellis the save.
Sam Prophet Is Legend
In TIS Sports Annals

By PVT. JOHN DOBBIN

The Infantry School was host to a number of great athletes during World War II. Among those who competed was Sam Prophet. A major in the football, basketball, track and field, and baseball teams at the school, Prophet became a legend. His years of experience and dedication to sports made him an inspiration to many.

Prophet's athletic career was marked by his proficiency in various sports. He was a star in football, basketball, track, and field events. Prophet's competitive spirit and exceptional abilities on the field were evident throughout his years of service.

In football, Prophet played as a defensive end for the Infantry School team, which was known for its strong defense. His speed and agility made him a formidable player, and he was a key contributor to the team's success.

On the basketball court, Prophet was a guard, known for his scoring abilities and defensive skills. His ability to read the game and make quick decisions was a hallmark of his playing style.

In track and field, Prophet excelled in the long jump and the 100-meter dash, setting records that stood for years. His dedication to training and his competitive nature made him a dominant force in his events.

Prophet's prowess in baseball was also notable. As a pitcher, he was known for his fastball, which he could throw with both hands. His ability to keep batters off-balance and his strategic thinking on the mound were key factors in his success.

Off the field, Prophet's leadership and dedication to his team were admired by his peers. His influence extended beyond the playing field, as he was a driving force in various committees and organizations within the school.

Prophet's legacy lives on at the Infantry School, where his name is synonymous with excellence and dedication. His contributions to sports are a testament to his impact on the school's athletic history.

The Infamous TIS Trounces Auburn, 11 to 7

By CPL. PAUL J. LUKAS

A 11-0 attack on three enemies; captured by TIS in five; and two home runs, carried the TIS squad to an 11-0 trouncing at Auburn, Ala. It was the first time the two teams had met since Auburn was established in 1943.

TIS' opening salvo was a two-run home run by TIS' ace hurler, W. T. Shipley, who started on the mound. Shipley's hit was a towering fly that cleared the fence at left.

Outfielder Gossom homed too and scored on a single by second baseman H. B. Jones. After two out, Shipley was thrown out at first.

The game lasted two and one-third innings, with the teams playing their last inning as tied. The teams finished the first ten minutes of play with Auburn the home team, winning 15 hits to TIS' 13.

In the second inning, after Shipley was thrown out at first, TIS' three home runs were given up by Shipley. The teams played their final innings with TIS at bat.

Horse Show Will Preview Later Event

Officers, ladie's, children and enlisted men will compete in the informal horse show to be held April 14 at Campell-King Horse-show Bowl as a prelude to a full-scale show to be held later in the year.

Starting at 2 p.m. the show will include jumping events, hack classes, children's novice and advanced classes and various members of the cadet riding school on a practice drill to demonstrate their improved skills in the equitation art through the expert instruction of Capt. George Davis and Capt. Frank Lillyman, stable officers.

Drawing by lot for horses for the various classes will be held Monday in the Main Lounge of the BRS. This will be the only way to insure an enjoyable afternoon's entertainment for all spectators.

The TIS team will complete the week's schedule for home games.

Vengeful TIS Evens Count With Vols, Winning 8 to 3

By GT. CHUCK LEWIS
The Infantry School baseball team scored the victory with the Nashville Vols Thursday afternoon at Gowdy field by taking a full victory in revenge of the Vols at Macon.

Southpaw Dewey Wilkins in chalking up his first victory of the season, had control all the way, and although the Vols got several hits, he kept them grounded. The sole best hitter was in his first start of the afternoon.

The game went into the eighth inning tied at 3 all when the runners on the base on the final play of the final time would be in motion. George Bonner, first baseman, with two base runners on, hit a right-field single which was dropped with his right arm but could not recover in a play. Dick Silver sacrificed
